Conclusion

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "barrel bolt" and the "split bolt" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1-17, 19, and 20 are objected to because of the following informalities: recitation of "a mount attached to nonmovable structure on both sides of the movable structure" should be replaced with --"a mount attached to nonmovable structure on each side of the movable structure".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 2, 3, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is not clear what is meant by "barrel bolt" or "split bolt" or how the recited structure (assume-ably distinct from that which has been illustrated) affects function of invention whereby one of ordinary skill in the art could not make and use the claimed invention.

Those same claims are rejected under 35 USC 112, second paragraph because it is not clear what is meant by the limitations "barrel bolt" or "split bolt" whereby the scope of the claimed invention cannot be reasonably determined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-3, 5, 7-12, 14, 15, 17, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Pat. No. 3,752,518 to Cannell.

Cannell '518 teaches Applicant's claim limitations including : a "plate" - 12, "with a rail" – the arcuate portion (as shown in Fig 3) of part 12, "attached to a movable structure" - 11, a "bolt movably attached to the rail" - 16, a "mount" - the door casing 17 and its openings 18, "attached to nonmovable structure" – the wall and its inherent framing.

As regards claim 2, 'as best understood', recitation of "barrel bolt" doesn't define over the barrel-shaped bolt of the reference.

As regards claim 3, the bolt 16 is "split" in left and right parts as shown in Fig 2 for example for engaging the two sides of the door frame.

As regards claim 5, opening 18 read on "movable bolt receiver" where no particular structure is defined that might be relied upon to patentably define from well known structure of the prior art which is disclosed to receive the "movable bolt". The law of anticipation requires that a distinction be made between the invention described or taught and the invention claimed. It does not require that the reference "teach" what the subject patent teaches. Assuming that a reference is properly "prior art," it is only necessary that the claims under consideration "read on" something disclosed in the reference, i.e., all limitations of the claim are found in the reference, or "fully met" by it.

Kalman v. Kimberly-Clark Corp., 218 USPQ 789.

As regards claim 7, part 10 reads on limitation of "bolt carrier connected to the rail".

8. Claims -5, 7-12, 14, and 15-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Pat. No. 5,340,172 to Sweet.

Sweet '172 teaches Applicant's claim limitations including : a "plate" - including 48,50a,50b, "with a rail" - including 44,46,47, "attached to a movable structure" - the double doors as shown in Fig 5 for example, a "bolt movably attached to the rail" - including 16,18,20a,20b, a "mount" - including 60a,60b, "attached to nonmovable structure" - the door jamb and/or wall and its inherent framing.

As regards claim 2, bolt portion 20a reads on limitation inasmuch as it has a barrel shape.

As regards claim 3, bolt portions 20a,20b are split by inclusion of part 16,18.

As regards claim 4, parts 60a,b are "adjustable", i.e., capable of being removed and placed further/closer to the plane of the door to accommodate different handle shank dimensions for example. It has been held that the recitation that an element is "capable of" performing a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138.

As regards claim 5, part 66 receives "movable bolt" - 20a where no particular structure is defined in the claim that can be relied upon to patentably distinguish from well known structure of the prior art.

As regards claim 7, part 66 receives "movable bolt" - 20a where no particular structure is defined in the claim that can be relied upon to patentably distinguish from well known structure of the prior art where lack of dependency from claim 5 is noted. Claims in a pending application should be given their broadest reasonable interpretation. In re Pearson, 181 USPQ 641 (CCPA 1974). Limitation of "connected" is broad enough to include intermediate elements.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 6, 13, and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3676

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Pat. No. 5,026,102 to Pitman.

U.S. Pat. No. 5,077,940 to Larose.
